A career counseling session was organized on 9th and 10th May 2016 for the students of Commerce, Humanities and Science stream of classes SS1 and SS2 by “Eptitude” an emerging career counseling and personality development institute. These workshops focused on the stream based career choices. The resource persons guided and helped the students clear their doubts. The workshops were conducted with a fresh and relevant outlook based on the work experience of the counselors and their interactions with professionals of various institutes.

The workshops acquainted the students with the scenario and demands of the real world work culture.
